

Andrew M. Rosati

+58 412 621 63 50 (mobile)

+58 212 956 63 11 (office)

andrew.rosati@gmail.com

www.andrewrosati.com

Multimedia journalist covering Venezuela for Bloomberg News. Extensive experience reporting in the Andean region, publishing stories for outlets including The Miami Herald, Public Radio International and France 24. Fluent in Spanish, proficient in Portuguese.

Experience

Bloomberg News

November 2014–Present

Economy and Government Reporter, previously full-time stringer

- Providing real-time coverage of Venezuela's spiraling crisis, while also writing enterprise, investigation and long-form stories for website and Business Week magazine
- Reporting daily on commodities, financial markets and political news
- Coordinating photographers and stringers, assisting bureau's freelancers develop stories

Freelance Journalist

June 2012–December 2015

- Covered Hugo Chávez's final election, cancer and death for The Miami Herald, The New York Times and Christian Science Monitor, as well as Nicolás Maduro's rocky transition to power
- Reported on a wave of violent unrest for Associated Press, while providing video to VICE News
- Wrote and produced forthcoming documentary, Tupamaro, on Venezuela's urban paramilitaries
- Investigated an array of Venezuelan industries and commodities for International News Services and its clients, including The Petroleum Review, Wards Auto, Steel First, University World News
- Frequently reported on Venezuela's faltering economy and countrywide dollar crunch for The FT
- Produced radio features for Deutsche Welle, NPR and PRI; video features for France 24 and Fusion, including exclusives on violence against police and Venezuela's kidnapping epidemic
- Regularly produced video features for CCTV America Correspondent, Martin Markovits

Other Experience

VenEconomy—Caracas, Venezuela

January 2012–June 2012

Staff Writer

- Reported on events, wrote and translated articles for online and print publications

Inter-American Development Bank—Department of Research, Washington, DC

Communications Consultant

July 2011–December 2011

- Edited and translated online departmental publications

United States House of Representatives—Iowa Rep. Bruce Braley, Washington, DC

Press Assistant

December 2010–June 2011

- Assisted the Communications Director with press correspondence, releases and events

Spanish Ministry of Education Grant Recipient—C.E.I.P. Valdebernardo, Madrid, Spain

English Language and Culture Teacher

October 2009–August 2010

- Assisted English professors in an extensive bilingual educational program for Spanish children

Education

Temple University—Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Class of 2009

- Majors: Economics, Spanish Language and Literature
- Honors Program

University of Oviedo—Oviedo, Spain

Spring 2008

- Intensive Program in Spanish Language and Culture for Foreign Students
- Advanced Placement